

Field Engineer

IK-Norway as is now looking for a Field Engineer with a minimum of 5 years' experience from field work in Oil & Gas process industry.

Job Description:

- Supervise team of technicians in the field
- Prepare necessary documentation and training for field operators
- Develop installations, operations and testing procedures
- Develop necessary project documentation, including final documentation/completion certificates in projects
- Provide necessary input to procurement, project cost and planning activities
- Contact with Client and suppliers
- Responsible for supplies from initiation to complete supply
- Follow up supplier in accordance with verified testing
- Perform quality control on received parts
- Follow up assembly and testing activity in IK Workshop.
- Participate as Field Engineer upon demand
- Follow up and take active part in IK HSE&Q policy and requirements according to duties in the IK Quality system.
- Initiate and participate in SJA and other relevant risk mitigation activities.

Authority

- Procurement according to authority matrix
- Approval or development of operational drawings and procedures of drawings and procedures.
- Contribute to safety and quality during project design and execution.

Skills and Experience

- Technical College or higher education (work experience can compensate for lack of formal education)
- 5 years' experience from field work in Oil & Gas process industry (lack of years can be compensated by formal education)
- Systematic, independent and analytical
- Strong interpersonal skills
- Experience with customer and suppliers related to offshore activities or other industries with strict requirements for quality

Workplace: Mainly at IK Field Service Workshop, Christian August Thorings veg 9

Start: From 01.01.2019

For more information about the position, please contact Department Manager Field Service Peter Bjørnsen mob. +47 91 61 69 16

Please send your application and CV to Job@IK-worldwide.com